

FESTIVAL DE CANNES

Rules & Regulations 2011

Films in Competition, Out of Competition, Un Certain Regard

Article 1

The spirit of the Festival de Cannes is one of friendship and universal cooperation. Its aim is to reveal and focus attention on works of quality in order to contribute to the evolution of motion picture arts and to encourage development of the film industry throughout the world.

Article 2

The 64th Festival de Cannes will be held from Wednesday 11th May to Sunday 22nd May 2011.

Article 3

The Board of Directors chooses and invites the films which will be presented in Competition, Out of Competition or for Un Certain Regard.

Each film invited to be part of the Official Selection by the Board of Directors will receive a Certificate of Participation.

Only films that meet the following conditions may be chosen for invitation in the Official Selection:

1. Films that have been produced during the twelve months preceding the Festival;
2. Films that have not been released anywhere other than their country of origin;
3. Films that have not been presented at any other international motion picture event; If the film (feature or short) has been selected in an international section (competitive or not) of a festival, it becomes ineligible for the Festival de Cannes.
4. Films that have not been exhibited on Internet;
5. Films that respect the aims of the Festival as defined in Article 1;
6. If participating in the "short film" category, films that do not exceed 15 minutes in length, including credits.

Article 4

Once a film has been selected it cannot be withdrawn from the Festival programme during the event.

Article 5

During the entire duration of the Festival de Cannes, none of the films invited may be shown outside the Festival's official theatres before its official screening.

Article 6

All films must be presented in their original language, with French subtitles. By "original language" is meant the one in which a film is or will be exhibited in its country of origin.

It is for the Board of Directors to decide whether or not a film that does not exactly meet this criterion may participate in the Festival.

French films must be subtitled in English on the print. All subtitling expenses are to be met by the film's producer. Moreover, all films with dialogues in a language different from English or French will be electronically subtitled in English. The screening of those subtitles will be operated by the Festival service provider.

Article 7

The Board of Directors designates the eight foreign and French members of the Jury for the feature films in competition as well as its President.

Each Jury member votes by secret ballot. Decisions will be reached by an absolute majority of votes in the first two ballots and by a relative majority vote in the following ballots.

The President and the General Director of the Festival de Cannes will attend Jury deliberations but will take no part in the voting.

The Board of Directors also designates the four members and the President of the Jury for the Cinéfondation and the short films in competition.

No person having taken part in the production or exploitation of a film in competition may be on the Jury.

Article 8

FEATURES in COMPETITION

The Jury for the feature films in competition is obliged to award:

- the Palme d'Or
- the Grand Prix
- the award for the Best Director
- the Jury Prize
- the award for the Best Screenplay
- the award for the Best Actress
- the award for the Best Actor

The prize list must not contain more than one joint award. The Palme d'Or can never be awarded jointly.

No film can receive more than one award. However, the award for the Best Screenplay and the Jury Prize can be combined with a Best Performance award, on special dispensation of the Festival's President.

Article 8 Bis

SHORT FILMS in COMPETITION

Besides the Cinéfondation prizes, the Cinéfondation and Short Film Jury is obliged to award:

- The Palme d'Or - Short Film.

Article 9

The producers of feature films participating in Competition at the Festival de Cannes agrees to refrain from entering their films in competition at other international motion picture events should their films be awarded the Palme d'Or or the Grand Prix.

Films chosen to be part of the Official Selection agree to use the "Official Selection" logotype of the Festival de Cannes on all publicity.

What is more, when publicising awards, the award winners and distribution companies agree to use the exact wording of the awards as set out in the logo guidelines of the Festival de Cannes. The Festival de Cannes' logo guidelines are available on the official website: www.festival-cannes.com

Article 10

All films to be submitted for the Official Selection must be entered by March 11th, 2011.

An entry form must be filled out on our website www.festival-cannes.com prior to this date.

A print, videocassette or DVD of the films submitted for selection must reach the Festival by March 15th, 2011.

Article 11

Complete documentation for each selected film is to be made available to the Film Department when required.

The final print of each invited film must reach the sole receiving shipping agent accredited by the Festival de Cannes by May 9th, 2011.

In case the final print does not reach the Festival by May 9th, 2011, the film won't be screened. This dead-line is imperative.

A stand-by print of each film with subtitles must be provided to the Festival de Cannes before the start of the Festival.

Article 12

Expenses for the shipping (for both import and export), screening and translation of films and/or cassettes presented to the Selection Committee with a view to their possible selection, are to be met by the film's producers or relevant body.

All expenses for the transportation (round trip) and insurance of prints are also the responsibility of their owner.

The Festival de Cannes covers storage and insurance costs for the prints of selected films while they are inside the official boundaries of the Festival, in Cannes.

Should a print be lost or damaged, the Festival's responsibility may only be engaged to the extent of the value indicated by the producer on the Technical Data Sheet.

Article 13

The President of the Association Française du Festival International du Film has the power to settle all cases not covered by the present rules and regulations.

Article 14

Participation in the Festival de Cannes implies acceptance of all the aforementioned regulations and respect of preselection conditions.

Should any dispute arise regarding the interpretation of an article in these regulations, their original French version is binding.

These rules apply to all sections of the Official Selection: Competition, Out of Competition, Un Certain Regard (except Cinéfondation - cf. Cinéfondation Rules and Regulations).
